Face in Clouds, Face Exhaling, Face with Spiral Eyes, Heart on Fire and Mending Heart. Android and iOS users are also getting an Emoji that represents a woman with a beard and a non-gender specific person with a beard.

The Unicode Consortium tweeted generic images depicting the upcoming Emoji. However, the images are just samples and vendors for mobile platforms create their own stylized versions.

Typically, the Unicode Consortium cooks up dozens of new Emoji and shows them between January and March before the graphics lands on smartphones in Septemeber and Octoboer. This year, because of the pandemic, the nonprofit delayed its big release, opting for this minor update instead.
